BRYAN'S TRIP TO CALIFORNIA PLEASES TOKIO

Newspapers Are More Tranquil, but One Big Journal Says, "Our Fleet Is No Toy."

BRYAN IS ON WAY WEST

Secretary of State Hopes to Avoid Discrimination in Any Land Legislation.

Treaty With U. S. on Which Japan Bases Protest

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The protest of Japan against the California alien land legislation is based on article 1 of the treaty proclaimed April 5, 1911, which follows:

"Article 1. The citizens or subjects of each of the high contracting parties shall have liberty to enter, travel and reside in the territories of the other to carry on trade, wholesale and retail, to own or lease and occupy houses, manufactures, warehouses and shops, to employ agents of their choice, to lease land for residential and commercial purposes and generally do anything incidental to or necessary for the trade upon the same terms as native citizens or subjects, submitting themselves to the laws and regulations there established. . . .

While the paragraph does not specifically give the Japanese the right to own land, the Japanese contend it would be violated by a law which specifically prohibits them or other aliens not eligible to citizenship from owning land.

According to the Japanese reading of the treaty the privilege of owning land is accorded to them under the paragraph quoted.

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, April 25.—Satisfaction is generally expressed here over the decision of President Wilson to send Secretary of State Bryan to Sacramento to consult with the Legislature here on the question of the proposed alien land ownership legislation. The majority of the Japanese newspapers adopt a more tranquil tone today, but the widely circulated Asahi Mainichi, an independent newspaper, in a warlike spirit points to the Japanese fleet as "no toy," and says that it is forced to action by discriminatory legislation. It is capable of vindictive action, the national honor.

BRYAN STARTS TO CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON, April 25.—William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, departed at 6:45 o'clock last night for Sacramento, Cal., where, on Monday, he will begin consultations with Gov. Johnson and members of the California Legislature in an effort to frame an anti-alien land law that will not be in conflict with treaty obligations of the United States with Japan.

"I go hopefully, with a realization of the responsibility involved," said the Secretary as he left the White House after a final conference with President Wilson.

"Japan's Attitude Proper." The President had explained during his conference with the newspaper men that the purpose of Bryan's visit was to take counsel with the California authorities as to the best way to avoid international difficulty. The President let it be known that he considered the attitude of the Japanese Government in arguing its case proper and friendly, and that there had been no note of antagonism, despite reports to the contrary, the position of the Tokio Government having been one of respectful urgency that no discrimination be made against their people.

Politics Greatest Obstacle Bryan Will Find in California.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 25.—Gov. Johnson's pronouncement "upholding the dignity of the State of California" and proclaiming her right to enact an anti-alien law and a protest from the Panama-Pacific Exposition management; against the proposed anti-Japanese legislation are reiteration of views heretofore expressed. The exact nature of the bill which will bear Gov. Johnson's endorsement is not known and probably not yet decided on. The new development in the program adopted by the Democrats in the Legislature is to introduce resolutions inviting the Governors of all the Pacific Coast states to come to California for a conference with Secretary Bryan and Gov. Johnson.

As this comes from the other side of the political fence it probably will be voted down. The Progressives are strong for State sovereignty in California just now. The anti-alien land ownership bill will be passed by the California Legislature and signed by the Governor may be taken for granted, whatever Secretary Bryan's advice may be.

Fear of Commitments. Now that Gov. Johnson is known to favor some such measure, one that bears his informal approval will be sent to him for his official signature. The legislators were for once yesterday more afraid of their constituents than of the Governor.

"Don't worry about the rain, my dear," said Mr. W. at the breakfast table.

"Well, I think it's a shame. I was going shopping today," replied Mrs. W.

"Consoles yourself. Just remember that April showers bring May flowers. This sort of weather is a boon to the farmer. It will make the fields yield up their store of golden grain. These April clouds, my dear, are the silver lining. We ought to be thankful. I must go to the office now. Where's the umbrella?"

"You didn't bring it home."

GRANDMOTHER DIES WHEN BABY REVIVES IN COFFIN

Child Succumbs Few Hours Later and the Two Are Buried Side by Side.

BUTTE, Cal., April 25.—While the members of the family and relatives were grouped about the open coffin of Mrs. J. R. Burney's 3-year-old son yesterday, listening to the funeral services, his body moved and presently a child, clad in its shroud, sat up and gazed about the room.

His eyes caught those of his grandmother, Mrs. L. P. Smith.

The aged woman stared at the child as if hypnotized. Then she sank into a chair, dead.

As she fell, the child dropped back into its coffin, from which it was instantly snatched by the mother. A physician said there was no hope for the boy and death came a few hours later.

Today there were two coffins in the Burney home, double services were held and the child and its grandmother were buried side by side.

WOMAN SAVES MAN DROWNING IN CISTERN

Jumps Over 3-Foot Fence and Throws Clothes Line in Answer to His Wife's Screams.

Charles Winkler, a carpenter, of 1223 East Fifth street, Alton was rescued from drowning in a cistern by Mrs. Otto Boedeker, a neighbor, who leaped over a three-foot fence and cast a clothes line to the drowning man in answer to the screams of his wife for aid.

Winkler had let himself down into the cistern by means of a wire to draw out a cistern bucket which had fallen in. The wire cut his hand so badly that he got off it. He screamed for help and his wife, helpless from fright, began screaming until Mrs. Boedeker rescued Winkler.

BENTON AND LUCAS, ENEMIES, FACE TO FACE IN FAME HALL

Senator's Portrait and Bust of Brother of His Duel Victim in Jefferson Memorial.

HERETOFORE KEPT APART

Famous Personal Feud of Early St. Louis History Vividly Recalled by Disposal.

An oil painting of Thomas H. Benton and a marble bust of James H. Lucas, brother of the man whom Benton killed in a duel on Bloody Island, have been placed nearly opposite each other in the hall of fame of the Missouri Historical Society's new quarters, the Jefferson Memorial Building in Forest Park.

Because of the deadly enmity between Benton and the Lucases almost a century ago, members of the Lucas family have sought, heretofore, to keep the pictures of their ancestors from being displayed in proximity to that of the Missouri statesman.

At the old quarters of the Historical Society on Locust street the family's wishes were observed, and the Benton portrait hung in a different room from that where the likenesses of James H. Lucas and his father, J. B. C. Lucas, were displayed.

Enemies Face Each Other.

But when the display was removed to the society's new quarters it was decided that the Lucas family's wishes should be respected no longer. The Lucas bust was placed in a most favorable position, by a window, and the Benton portrait was hung so as to get the best possible light, on the wall nearly opposite. The life-long enemies are thus left looking at each other. The room is the handsomest in the building, the ceiling being treated in gold leaf and several other fine portraits and busts hang there.

Benton's First Challenge Declined.

Charles Lucas and Thomas H. Benton were opposing counsel in a case which was tried in St. Louis in October, 1818. Benton, in his statement to the jury, said that certain evidence had been presented, and Lucas contradicted his statement, saying there had been no such evidence. Lucas won the case.

Benton sent Lucas a challenge to mortal combat, and Lucas wrote a note declining to jeopardize Benton's life or his own for a mere lawyers' tilt.

Aug. 4, 1817, Benton and Lucas met at an election and had a controversy from which, eight days later, a duel resulted. Benton was wounded at the first fire, but this did not satisfy Benton, who demanded either that the firing should be resumed at once or that Lucas should pledge himself to meet him again. Lucas was removed, and friends tried to prevent another combat, but Benton proved implacable.

Judge W. B. Douglas, vice-president of the society, who supervised the installation of the display, said he expected the bust and the portrait to remain in the places assigned to them.

"Thomas H. Benton and James H. Lucas were both great figures of their time," he said. "Each is entitled to a position of honor in the best place the society has to give them. The fact that they were personal enemies is a secondary matter, compared to the fact of their historic importance in early St. Louis."

Sept. 27 Benton and Lucas met for the second time on Bloody Island and Benton again wounded his adversary at the first fire. Lucas died half an hour later. Lucas was 35 years old. Benton was 10 years older.

HUSBAND RELATES HOW HIS WIFE WAS KISSED BY PASTOR

Theodore J. Ferguson Declares That He Has Forgiven the Rev. Charles M. Rauch.

CONFIDENCE IS EXPRESSED

Trustees of Cote Brillante Presbyterian Church Pledge Support to Minister.

Theodore J. Ferguson of 1235 Walton avenue, a clerk for the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday that it was his wife who was kissed by the Rev. Charles M. Rauch, pastor of Cote Brillante Presbyterian Church, whose conduct was investigated by several members of the board of elders.

He gave the details of the affair.

"My wife is a good woman," he said, "and she never by act or word encouraged Pastor Rauch to kiss her. At her request I refrained from settling with the minister personally, and believing that he had fully repented, I pardoned him, but the action I took must not be construed as a hint that I even suspect that my wife was in any way to blame for his actions."

Said She Was Worried.

"About eight weeks ago Mrs. Ferguson told me she was worried about something, and when I questioned her she told of Pastor Rauch's conduct. She said that on several occasions when she had visited him in his church study to discuss Sunday School and other church matters he had kissed her."

"She admonished him each time, she told me, and at first had decided to forget what he had done and say nothing about it, but when he repeated the offense, she said, her conscience troubled her and she made up her mind to tell me about it."

"I was indignant and my first impulse was to have it out with the minister in person. Then my wife pleaded with me for the sake of the church to make no trouble. She went so far as to say that she did not believe the minister had meant harm, but that she was anxious to find some way to make him cease his attentions."

"I felt that I could not conscientiously let the matter rest. I spoke to one of the elders about it and after the minister had confessed in the presence of a committee that my charge was true and begged my forgiveness, I was willing to let the whole thing drop. I even at his solicitation wrote him a letter of forgiveness so he could use it in the event the Board of Elders should demand his resignation. I believed that he was truly sorry for what he had done and I felt that he had been punished by his own conscience."

"I refrained from discussing the matter with my wife, but she said about it now except for the fact that I wish to place my wife in the proper light. Those members of the church who attempt to excuse Pastor Rauch's conduct by intimating that Mrs. Ferguson in the matter was misled, encouraged him to take liberties with her are much to be pitied. The minister himself, so far as I know, has never accused Mrs. Ferguson of being even partially to blame for what he did."

The Board of Trustees, at a meeting Thursday night, adopted resolutions expressing confidence in Pastor Rauch and pledging him their hearty support.

The resolutions were signed by Samuel A. Kepner, president of the board, and Samuel J. McAllister, secretary.

Elder Edwin Smith of 4758 Labadie

Edwards said that the matter may be taken up at the next regular meeting of the Board of Elders, May 12.

In regard to Pastor Rauch's statement that he had been misled, several elders have said they had not demanded the pastor's resignation because he had made what they considered a tentative offer to resign and had asked to be allowed to do so quietly for the sake of the church.

Several elders have said they were willing to drop the matter under the impression that Pastor Rauch meant to resign, but that his failure to do so caused considerable comment by members of the congregation who had knowledge of the Ferguson affair. These elders said they were afraid the matter would become generally known and would reach such a stage that their efforts to hush it up would be fruitless.

Pastor Rauch blames a few disgruntled members of the congregation for the publicity of the affair. Two weeks ago he said he intended to resign as soon as he could find a new field, but Thursday, when informed the story was to be published, he said he had made no effort to find a new church.

The kissing of Mrs. Ferguson was not a serious proposition, Pastor Rauch said, but was more in a spirit of playfulness. It was more like doing something on a dare, he added, than an evidence of love or affection. In his confession to elders several weeks ago the minister characterized his act as a "weakness of human nature."

COBB SIGNS A CONTRACT

DETROIT, Mich., April 25.—After a conference with President Navin this afternoon, Ty Cobb, center fielder of the Detroit American League baseball club, attached his name to a 1913 contract. The terms were not given out.

Application to the national commission for Cobb's reinstatement was made immediately.

HER ALIMONY SUIT IS RESISTED WITH PLEA SHE HAS REMARRIED

MRS. CELESTE THOMPSON.

S. A. THOMPSON CAN'T TELL HOW HE SPENT $8100

Testifies in Bankruptcy Case He Got It Jan. 1 and It Is Gone—Pleads Divorced Wife Has Remarried.

Samuel A. Thompson's statement, in a court answer, that his divorced wife, Celeste Thompson, has married again, and therefore is entitled to no further alimony from him, probably will be investigated by Judge McQuillin.

The statement is denied by the former wife's lawyer, Morton Jourdan, to whom she referred inquiries. Thompson said, when questioned about it, that he did not himself know that his former wife had taken another husband, but that he had given his lawyer, George L. Edwards, permission to make the statement in court in answer to her suit for $4000 back alimony. Edwards, when asked about the statement, said it was true and would be proven. Jourdan's statement and that of Thompson himself notwithstanding.

Samuel A. Thompson is the son of the late William H. Thompson, who was president of the National Bank of Commerce and treasurer of the World's Fair. He has married again since his first wife divorced him at Clayton, Mo., and lives at the Planters Hotel. His second wife was formerly Mrs. Helen Bonner of Richmond, Va. His first wife was Miss Celeste Clark before their marriage, and she now lives with her father, Cyrus E. Clark, at 333 McPherson avenue. Her alimony award was $500 a month, payable until she shall marry again.

Suit for $4000 Alimony. Thompson's charge that his former wife had remarried was made in a formal statement filed with Judge McQuillin by Attorney Edwards, in reply to her suit for eight months' back alimony. The reply stated that, as she had married again, she was not entitled to alimony under the terms of the court's decree.

At the same time, Thompson was testifying in a hearing on his petition in voluntary bankruptcy, that he did not remember how he had spent $8100, paid him Jan. 1 as a dividend from his father's estate.

Thompson, pale and disheveled, appeared in Referee Cole's office half an hour late, and explained that he had been searching for his attorney, George L. Edwards, but had been unable to find him. He stated that he was willing to take the witness stand and answer as best he could. His examination was conducted by A. L. Abbott as attorney for the referee.

He said that for the last eight years he had lived at the Planters Hotel, and that in New York he lived at the Waldorf or the Ritz-Carlton. In the latter hotel he had a lease on an apartment, he said.

Edwards gave a list of friends. BERLIN, April 25.—Roman Catholic clergymen are forbidden either to own or ride in automobiles, according to an edict published today in the Rhenish Prussian Bishopric of Trier.

The head of the diocese declares that the use of automobiles is inconsistent with the humility which should adorn the clergy.

PIERCE INVOLVED FOR $7,000,000 IN TENNESSEE DEALS

He Testifies This Was Result of Misplaced Confidence in the Late J. C. Van Blarcom.

HAS ADVANCED $4,000,000 TO TENNESSEE CENTRAL

Commerce Bank Is Suing Him for $1,500,000 in Collateral, Which, He Says, He Understood, Was Turned Over to U. S. Senator Bailey After Loan Had Been Paid.

Henry Clay Pierce, testifying Friday before Special Commissioner Muench in the suit of the National Bank of Commerce to recover from him securities alleged to be worth $1,500,000, told how he had become involved in the Tennessee Central Railway deal to the extent of nearly $7,000,000 through financial transactions engineered through the bank and its officers. He blamed his entanglement on what he termed misplaced confidence in the late J. C. Van Blarcom, president of the bank.

The suit against Pierce, who is chairman of the board of directors of the Waters Pierce Oil Co., and formerly was known as one of the group of Standard Oil millionaires, alleges that he converted to his own use 15,000 shares of the capital stock of the Nashville Terminal Co., one of the subsidiary corporations of the Tennessee Central Railway Co., which was promoted by a syndicate of St. Louisans in 1901 and 1902. The bank alleges that the stock was pledged to it to secure a loan, and that through the act of a former official of the bank it was taken down and finally turned over to Pierce or his agents and that Pierce still holds it.

The principal points developed in arguments as to what should be admitted into the record.

That the National Bank of Commerce organized a syndicate capitalized for $400,000 in 1901 to handle the Tennessee Central Railway proposition, principally to protect a loan of $400,000 which it had made to N. C. Chapman on securities issued by a syndicate which the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. previously had organized, and which it had decided to discontinue.

That he, Van Blarcom and the late William H. Thompson, then president of the National Bank of Commerce, each subscribed for $50,000 in the syndicate, and that 25 other St. Louisans each subscribed for $10,000.

Van Blarcom Made Demands. That Van Blarcom, who was vice-president of the bank, as syndicate manager, made frequent demands upon him and Thompson for advances of securities to raise money to finance the enterprise.

That he, on one occasion, loaned Van Blarcom $700,000 worth of securities which he had on deposit with the National Bank of Commerce, upon which Van Blarcom obtained loans from St. Louis trust companies, and that subsequently he had to pay the loans to recover the securities.

That since the deaths of Van Blarcom and Thompson he has personally carried the financial burdens of the Tennessee Central Railway, now in the hands of a receiver, and advanced to it more than $4,000,000 in cash.

That Van Blarcom abused the confidence which he and Thompson had reposed in him, and that Thompson visited him in New York and complained bitterly of Van Blarcom's conduct.

That Van Blarcom came to him in New York some time prior to 1905 and sought his aid in procuring a loan of $1,000,000 from New York bankers, and that after Pierce had arranged the loan for him Van Blarcom returned to St. Louis and procured $1,500,000 from the Bank of Commerce and $800,000 from the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and had induced his (Pierce's) son-in-law, Elben Richards, to sign Pierce's name as guarantor for the loans, and that he personally had to pay the Mississippi Valley loan.

That it was his understanding that the $1,500,000 stock of the Nashville Terminal Co., which the National Bank of Commerce seeks to recover, was turned over to United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, as assignee of the Tennessee Construction Co., after the loan for which it was pledged had been paid.

That in entering into the syndicate to promote the Tennessee Central deal, he understood that he was acting for the Bank of Commerce and not for himself as an individual, and that this understanding continued until the collapse of the syndicate.

Pierce told his story after the attorney, F. N. Judson, representing him, and George Lockett Edwards, representing the bank, had engaged in many Judson said the question had no bearing on the case. The action brought by the bank, he said, was in the nature of a replevin suit to determine the ownership of certain stock.

Edwards replied that in order to determine the ownership of the stock it would be necessary to go into the history of the companies connected with the Tennessee Central deal.

Muench ruled that Pierce might be questioned as to his recollection of these deals but not as to points which

65 BODIES FOUND IN MINE; 92 NEW DEATH ESTIMATE

Company in Pennsylvania Accounts for Others in Shaft at Time of Explosion.

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, April 25.—Rescue parties, working in the ruined Cincinnati mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Co., where an explosion occurred Wednesday afternoon, today brought 23 additional bodies to the mouth of the shaft.

Fourteen bodies were located shortly before noon. They were some distance in the mine and will not be brought out until night. This makes a total of 65 known dead. According to the coal company's statement, there are about 92 more bodies to be recovered. The company's records have been checked and as near as these tally, 170 men went into the mine Wednesday morning, the day of the explosion. Seventy-eight of these are known to have escaped by the two entries, leaving 92 to be accounted for.

Chief of the State Department of Mines, James E. Roderick, said today: "I think it will be found that the explosion and the resulting loss of life was caused by far more than carelessness. I don't like to censure dead men. I believe that certain employees who held responsible positions are to blame." The bodies recovered were found buried under the fallen roof and the opinion was expressed by some of the men that all bodies that will be recovered later will be found under masses of rock. It may, therefore, be several days before the exact extent of the loss can be determined.

The force of workers was increased by volunteers from the district, the air having been advanced to a point where men not supplied with the rescue equipment could be used to advantage. However, some parts of the mines are still filled with gas and until these are cleared, no one can enter.

OTHER IMPORTANT BANK OF COMMERCE OFFICIALS TO QUIT

President Edwards' Retirement to Be Followed in Few Weeks by Two Others.

The resignation of Ben F. Edwards as president of the National Bank of Commerce will be followed in a few weeks by the retirement of at least two other important officers of the bank, according to the statement of a director to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday. Edwards' successor will be named from a list of St. Louis bankers now under consideration by the bank's Executive Committee, of which W. K. Blaisy is chairman.

Tom Randolph, acting president of the bank, will be continued in that position temporarily. Vice-Chairman Campbell, of the Executive Committee, will take charge of the larger affairs of the bank until the proposed reorganization is effected.

Edwards withdrew from the presidency at a special meeting of the Board of Directors late Thursday afternoon in a formal statement that he "had been unable to secure the harmonious co-operation of all the directors."

The bank's officers are W. B. Cowen, Tom Randolph, W. L. McDonald, vice-presidents, and J. A. Lewis, cashier. Edwards' salary as president was $25,000 a year. It was cut from $40,000 last July after the directors, at the instance of Government bank examiners, charged off $5,748,729.35 from the surplus and undivided profits of the bank. The salaries of the other officers also were reduced substantially at that time.

Rose From Messenger Job.
In 37 years Edwards rose from a messenger at $3 a week to a salary of $40,000 a year as the head of the most powerful banking institution west of the Mississippi River. He went to work on his sixteenth birthday for the St. Louis National Bank, which subsequently was absorbed by the National Bank of Commerce. He was made assistant correspondent clerk for the Bank of Commerce in January, 1876; elected assistant cashier, January, 1882; elected cashier, January, 1896; vice-president and director, January, 1904, and president in September, 1908, at the death of J. C. Van Harcom. Van Harcom had been president for two years, succeeding the late William H. Thompson.

Under the Thompson regime, Bank of Commerce stock sold above $400 a share. Recently it sold below $140. The declining tendency of the shares, however, began six years ago, prior to Edwards' attaining the presidency.

Friction Rumored Early in 1912.
Rumors of serious friction among the bank's shareholders became current in the early part of 1912. William H. Thompson, August F. Luytjes and other large holders of the W. H. Thompson estate, who owned a total of 10,730 shares of Commerce stock, began to show evidence of opposition to the Edwards administration. Therefore the Thompsons and Edwards interests apparently had worked in harmony and it was at the earnest suggestion of the former, it is stated, that Edwards was made president of the institution.

Stories began to circulate that President Edwards had built up a clientele of directors which was the supreme in the management of the bank's affairs. The storm broke 45 months ago when the Thompson adherents under the leadership of George Lockett Edwards started to solicit proxies for the election of a directorate which would oust Edwards from the presidency.

Edwards' answer to this attack was the comment statement that when the "other side" had exhausted its efforts he would still be president of the bank. His prediction that the differences between the conflicting stockholders would be smoothed over came true when he was re-elected president in January. His election at that time, however, was qualified with the explanation that his tenure of office would be only temporary.

Edwards agreed with his critics that certain directors, then acting as officials of the bank, should be replaced by men of high standing in the financial world. Among those who accepted his invitation to serve on the Board of Directors was James Campbell, president of the North American Co. and a director and stockholder in the Mercantile Trust Co. and the Mercantile National Bank.

Although reluctant to take the directorship, Campbell made it clear to President Edwards and the other directors that he must ascertain every detail of the bank's management. One of his first acts was to investigate a lot of collateral on which large loans had been made, and which in the opinion of the Government bank examiners were uncollectable.

ALARM CAUSED BY USE OF ACID AS BEAUTIFIER

Woman Burns Lips, Screams, Girl Calls Doctor and He Calls an Ambulance.
Mrs. Martha L. Weiner, 17 years old, 225 Hickory street, wanted to remove some blemishes on her face. A neighbor told her carbolic acid was a good method and so, the police of Soutard station assert, Mrs. Weiner tried the remedy Thursday afternoon.

She was applying the acid when a few drops touched her lips. The pain caused her to cry out. Nellie Behrens of the same address heard the cry, ran to Mrs. Weiner's side, observed the acid bottle and at once decided Mrs. Weiner was in a serious condition. She ran to the office of a physician. An ambulance was called.

When it arrived Mrs. Weiner dismissed the driver. She said the alarm was unnecessary and declined even to see a doctor.

FRIGATE, 95 YEARS OLD, ATTACKED BY FIRE, BUT SAVED

Twenty-Five New York Navy Williamen Routed by Flames; Navy's Largest Wooden Boat.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The 36-year-old frigate, the largest wooden vessel ever built for the United States Navy, which seemed doomed by fire breaking out aboard her in the Hudson river at midnight, was saved from destruction early today, but not until serious damage had been done.

Roofed over like a mammoth houseboat, the old warship has rested for the last few years at a permanent anchorage off sixty-ninth street, where it was used as an armory by the First Battalion of the New York Naval Militia. Seventy militia men asleep in their hammocks were aboard when the fire, under great hostility, was discovered in the paint-shop.

Twenty-five of the men carried out two tons of ammunition and then all hands fought the flames.

2000 Strikers' Children Go Home. LILLE, France, April 25.—Nearly 2000 children of Belgian strikers, who have been cared for by sympathizers here during the strike in Belgium, departed for home today. All of them carried presents with them from their temporary guardians.

CHARGES LOSS OF HIS DIVORCE SUIT TO NEWSPAPERS

Charles J. Anderson Files a Motion for a New Trial in Judge McQuillin's Court.

Alleging that he lost his divorce suit against Edna A. Anderson partly through the effect of newspaper publications of the proceedings, Charles J. Anderson, a lawyer, filed a motion for a new trial in Judge McQuillin's court Friday. Judge McQuillin a few days ago dismissed Anderson's suit without prejudice after a trial lasting a week. Mrs. Anderson appeared in court with her brother-in-law, Sheridan Webster, as her attorney, and opposed her husband's case.

Anderson's motion for rehearing recites that "the judgment and decision of the Court is the result of bias and prejudice, engendered by numerous newspaper articles inspired by the defendant or her counsel, and prepared with the design of improperly influencing the mind of the Court." This is mentioned with seven other reasons why the motion should be granted.

Files Affidavit in Plea. An affidavit in support of the plea in regard to alleged newspaper influence is filed by Anderson. In this he says that two nephews of Mrs. Anderson, who are sons of her attorney, are reporters on two St. Louis newspapers. According to Anderson, the nephews caused to be printed a series of daily reports of the divorce trial in all the St. Louis papers. The affidavit recites that these accounts "always were favorable to the defendant and were unfair and garbled."

The reports, he continues, in many cases were accompanied by pictures of Mrs. Anderson. Her nephew-reporters, it is asserted, caused their aunt to be interviewed frequently, thereby "enabling her to belittle and explain away damaging testimony against her, but no interview was sought in explanation from the plaintiff."

Clippings From Papers. Anderson declares that the newspaper accounts were "concocted and inspired by the defendant, her counsel and their relatives, for the express purpose of influencing the mind of the trial court and to lead said court to believe public sentiment favored defendant in the case."

Attached to the affidavit are 15 clippings from all the St. Louis daily newspapers in reference to the divorce trial.

SENATE ORATOR PROTESTS AGAINST MONEY LAUNDRY

"Farmer" Martine Declares Machine Removes All Traces of Color From Notes.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—An impassioned protest against the Government using a Chinese laundry process for washing paper currency was made in the Senate by "Farmer" Martine of New Jersey. He declared the use of the machinery employed removed all traces of color from the notes, left them almost worthless as money and made it necessary for people to handle gray paper. He eulogized the glories of nice, bright-colored, crisp notes, and said it was a delight to use them.

Senator Martine said he had sent letters to all the banks in the country requesting an opinion on the subject of laundering money. He had received 60 replies. The banks unanimously urged that the practice be discontinued and new money issued by the Government when necessary. He will seek to have these replies published as a document.

NEW HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINER IS 950 FEET LONG

Vaterland Is of 55,000 Tonnage and Still Bigger Sister Ship Is Building.

NEW YORK, April 25.—In view of misstatements regarding the dimensions of the steamship Vaterland, the Hamburg-American Line today sent to the press these corrected dimensions, supplied by the shipbuilders at Hamburg: Steamship Vaterland: Length, 913 feet; beam, 38 feet; depth, 62 feet; tonnage, 55,000; average speed, 23½ knots (crossing the Atlantic in six days); lifeboats, 24 (including two power lifeboats carrying wireless). Sails for New York May 24, 1913.

Steamship Vaterland: Length, 950 feet; beam, 39 feet; tonnage, 55,000; launched April 2, 1912. Entered transatlantic service in the spring of 1914.

A third sister ship, of greater dimensions, is building.

ALCOHOL SMUGGLED AS GAS FOR BALLOON USE

Spain Reports $40,000 Revenue Loss Through Transatlantic Flight Trick.

LONDON, April 25.—A telegram from Madrid to the Daily News says: "The much-talked-of transatlantic balloon trip has been made the medium of carrying out a most ingenious and audacious fraud on the customs."

"A Tenerife telegram announces that 134 tubes, ostensibly containing hydrogen, but in reality filled with 200,000 liters of alcohol, were smuggled into Los Palmaras under the very noses of the customs officials, who unconsciously aided in a loss of revenue amounting to $40,000."

CITED FOR CAN-CAN LOCKED IN ICEBOX

L. P. Gunther's Saloon Comes to Police Attention Twice in 24 Hours.

As if a citation before the Excise Commissioner were not enough bad luck for one day, Louis P. Gunther, saloon keeper at 314 North Channing avenue, declares that he was locked in his icebox by robbers at 12:45 a. m. Friday, and $50 was taken from his cashbox. One of the robbers, he said, drove the negro porter away by firing a revolver.

A patrolman reported Thursday that Gunther had permitted women to dance what the patrolman called the "can-can" in his place. On this statement he was cited to appear before the Excise Commissioner Friday. On learning of the citation, he went to Chief Young's office and said the policeman had done him an injustice, and that he kept an orderly place.

Gunther went on to explain to the Chief that the police were too attentive to little irregularities in saloons, and not diligent enough in protecting property. He said there had been a number of saloon robberies lately.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives of publishers news gathered by the Associated Press.

MANILA AVIATION SCHOOL

Capt. Chandler to Join Lieut. Lahm in Instruction.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The War Department has ordered Capt. C. de Forest Chandler of the signal corps to go to Manila and establish an aviation school there. Capt. Chandler has made many flights, both in free and dirigible balloons and in heavier-than-air machines.

Lieut. Frank Lahm of the signal corps has been in the islands for more than a year in charge of one of the army machines. He has reported that he has taught a number of officers stationed at Manila and elsewhere in the archipelago the art of flying.

SICKLES INCIDENT WANES

State Not Likely Further to Press Claim Against General.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 25.—New York State probably will take no further action to recover $25,000 unaccounted for by Gen. Daniel E. Sickles as chairman of the New York Monuments Commission. "Although numerous offers were made to aid Sickles," said Attorney-General Carmody today, "not a dollar has been turned over to the state authorities for this purpose. If we are satisfied the Sickles has no assets and that we cannot recover this money, we will not press the matter."

There are only 20 dozen in all; made of Milan, hemp and Java braid; trimmed with satin and velvet ribbon, some with flowers. The shapes are the newest Poke effects, Mushroom and Roll Sallors; in colors, burnt, black, two-tone effects and also white.

St. Louis Men Have Been Paying
$15, $18 and $20 for all Season—

There are Suits of new chevots, cassimeres, worsteds and English-looking mixtures, in shades of gray, brown, tan and many other popular colors. Come in two-button, low-roll coats, three and four-button English models and the popular Norfolk style.

"A1" Tailoring—All-Wool
Materials—The Best Styles—
Kuppenheimer Clothes

It is the same old equation of a combination of all the good points, equals the best.

And that's why Kuppenheimer Clothes are the headline in this Men's Store—simply because they are the best ready-for-service Clothes which we could find, after a most thorough search.

They are here in the best styles—styles that men like to wear—most carefully tailored—of finest wools, and with all these good points, prices are only

—$20 to $40

For Newest Styles in Men's Hats

It would be a good idea to investigate what this Men's Store has to offer first of all.

For here not only will the newest styles be found, but you will find them at much less than prevailing prices elsewhere.

For Instance—
The New Green Hats
Are Here at $1.85

Is there any logic in paying $3 and $4 for one of them at other shops, when they can be secured here at such a price as $1.85?

Then again, we have the same styles in brown, tan, blue and mixtures, with back or side bow, as you prefer, at $1.55. We also have the best styles from prominent Hat makers in foreign countries as well as in this country. There are the S. B. & F. Soft and Stiff Hats, at $1.55. Also the Waldorf Soft and Stiff Hats, priced at $3. And, of course, the John B. Stetson Hats at $3.50 to $4. And splendid English Hats from Robt. Heath, at $5. (Main Floor.)

ADVISES BANKERS TO GIVE FARMERS MORE ATTENTION

New Kansas Commissioner Says Men Who Sow Soil Are State's Mainstay.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 25.—"Quit petting the business man and pay more attention to the farmer," is State Bank Commissioner Sawyer's first message to the Kansas State bankers. If Sawyer had sent them word to wear red neckties and golf caps the bankers would not have been more surprised.

manufacturing and jobbing business over-balance strictly agricultural trading.
He advises bankers to attend farmers' institutes, learn what they are for and what they do, and declare that the banks of any county could afford to support a demonstration farm to work out experimental crops for the farmers.
He adds:

"One of the serious problems confronting the farmers now is the question of conservation and marketing.
They raise a crop of wheat and sell it and so much strength is gone from the land. They raise a crop of corn and sell it and so much strength has been taken away. Kansas ought to mill all of its own wheat and it ought to feed all of its own corn and ship flour and fat cattle instead of corn and wheat, finishing the product of the farm right
where the raw material is grown.

"The banks ought to encourage stock feeding. They ought to go out to the farmers and offer to help get the cattle, see that they are properly fed and prepared for the market and then see that the manure goes back onto the farm."

Sawyer knows whereof he writes, because he was a State banker at Newton.

CLAYTON WOULD FORBID FIREWORKS AND "GUSS WORDS"

Prohibitory Ordinances Are to Come Up for Their Final Passage Monday.

Pyrotechnics, both verbal and chemical, will be unlawful in the new city of Clayton after Monday. The man who shoots off a firecracker on the Fourth of July, or he who shoots off an explosion of profanity on any of the year's 365 days, will be liable to a fine.

The Fourth of July is not excepted.
The framers of an anti-fireworks ordinance wished to permit the burning of pinwheels, Roman candles and sky-rockets on the country's birthday, but he was outvoted after he had been floored with the argument that the Fourth of July is about the only time in the year, this far north at least,
when people burn pinwheels and sky-rockets.

A special ordinance committee, composed of Aldermen F. J. Hollister, David Schmid and Christ Ruel, presented four bills. No. 1 made it a misdemeanor to use profane or improper language on any street or in any public place in Clayton. The penalty for violation is a fine of from $1 to $100.

Another measure made it an offense,
punishable by a fine of from $10 to $50,
to turn in a false fire alarm. Recently somebody turned in such an alarm and sent all the town's fire fighters on a wild goose chase half a mile into the country.

A penalty of from $5 to $50 is provided for any person who abuses a dumb animal by beating it, overloading it or otherwise mistreating it. The fourth measure was the anti-fireworks ordinance.

Fire Prevention Is Aim.
Most of the houses of Clayton are of frame construction, and it is explained they are likely to be set afire by any kind of explosion of gunpowder or nitroglycerin.

The right to grant a permit to discharge a gun was reserved to the Mayor,
but with the elimination of the Fourth of July provision, this was understood to mean that the law was not to be taken off on Independence day.

WOMAN, CHILD AND TWO MEN BITTEN BY DOGS
Girl's Nose and Left Cheek Are Torn by Animal and Ice man
Is Nipped on Leg.

The police say a police court summons will be issued against Mrs. Evaline Rieger, of 5344 Zealand avenue, charging her with keeping an unlicensed dog. The charge follows a complaint of Frederick Effinger, 60 years old, a guest of Father Dempsey's hotel, Seventh and Carr streets. Effinger said that while he was seeking to peddle articles in the yard of the Rieger home, he was bitten on the left leg by the Rieger dog.

When petting a dog belonging to Gabrielle, 207 North Jefferson avenue, Thursday, Charlotte Hagemeier, 6 years old, 2797 St. Louis avenue, was bitten on the nose and left cheek by the dog. The police say Cavette will be summoned into court on a charge of failing to have his dog licensed.

John Marbach, 102 Leona avenue, a driver for the Polar Wave Ice Co., Thursday complained to the police that a dog belonging to Mrs. C. Burnes, 1208 Blackstone avenue, bit him on the right leg.

Mrs. Mary Howard, 60 years old, 1229 North Seventh street, was bitten on the left arm by a dog owned by Sam Tocco, 123 North Seventh street.

STATE TO INVOKE TRUST LAW IF FIRE COMPANIES QUIT

Attorney-General Barker Says
Missouri Statutes Are Adequate in This Case.

AWAITS THE NEXT MOVE

Declares Carrying Out of Pittsburg Agreement to Withdraw Would Violate Law.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 25.—The fire insurance companies will not be permitted to suspend business in Missouri without legal contest with the State authorities. Attorney-General Barker made this clear this morning. He is not prepared to say what his course will be, but he said he had looked into the situation and had adequate means of protecting the State.

Some action will be taken by the Attorney-General as soon as he sees the outcome of the Pittsburg meeting, where the companies in the Western Insurance Bureau met and agreed to suspend business. No notice of an intention to withdraw has been served on any State officers.

Barker held a conference today with Gov. Major and Insurance Superintendent Revelle and the situation was discussed from every angle. The State authorities are not entirely agreed among each other as to the best plan to be pursued, but Barker has his own individual plan.

"No Extra Session," Major Says.
"If the fire insurance companies suspend or withdraw from the State it will be for four years," said Gov. Major today. "That's all I have to say."

The insurance superintendent, who is appointed by the Governor, has power to revoke the license of any insurance company for any or no reason. The Governor believes the companies are trying to force an extra session of the Legislature.

"You can say for me that under no circumstances will I call an extra session of the Legislature. No matter how many business men appeal to me for an extra session I will not call it,"
he said.

Would Invoke Trust Law.
The Attorney-General believes the action of the companies in combining to suspend business is clearly a violation of the anti-trust laws of the State. If proceeding is filed to prevent the companies from suspending, it will be before the Supreme Court, in a restraining order to show cause.

There is no precedent in this or other States for such a suspension of business upon the part of corporations engaged in a similar business, but the Attorney-General believes the condition is fully met by the antitrust laws.

The proceedings by the Attorney-General will not be for revocation of charters and licenses, but will ask that the companies be penalized for attempting to punish the State by suspending business. It is believed here that the State can forfeit the securities of the companies, filed with the insurance superintendent as a condition to doing business in this State.

Hadley Sharply Criticized.
Attorney-General Barker resented the statement accredited to former Gov. Hadley that his interview saying the companies would have to reduce their rates or face an ouster was untrue.

"The agents at Kansas City should have sent a lawyer to Pittsburg to address the companies instead of a politician," Barker said.

Western Insurance Bureau Decides to Quit Missouri, April 26.
PITTSBURG, Pa., April 25.—The Western Insurance Bureau, holding an annual convention here, decided to withdraw April 26 from Missouri because of antagonistic legislation which they assert has been enacted and seriously interferes with their business. Sixty-two companies were represented.

The action of the bureau follows a similar decision taken recently at Philadelphia by the Western Insurance Union. It is said the two organizations write about 90 per cent of the insurance in Missouri.

Former Gov. Hadley of Missouri, who was here in connection with the annual exercises of the Carnegie Institute, appeared before the delegates as a representative of the Board of Underwriters at Kansas City. He urged the insurance companies to send representatives to Jefferson City to confer with the Missouri Attorney-General and other State officials before definite action was taken.

The delegates voted to refer the question to the "Missouri Committee." From what can be learned here the action of the delegates practically sidetracked the recommendations of Hadley.

30,000 SUFFRAGISTS TO
BE IN NEW YORK PARADE

Will March Up Fifth Avenue 8
Abreast to the Music of 35
Bands, May 3.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Thirty thousand suffragists, all in uniform, will march up Fifth Avenue eight abreast to the music of 35 bands a week from tomorrow, according to the organizers of the annual parade.
If this number turns out—and it is declared that 30,000 promises to do so have been received—it will be the largest demonstration of the kind
New York has seen.

Mrs. Richard C. Burleson as herald will lead the parade on horseback, carrying an American flag.

The "Pilgrims" who hiked to Washington for the inauguration day demonstration will march in front of the carriage in which will ride the pioneer suffragist, Mrs. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, who is more than 80 years old.

GIRL BANK REPORTER OUSTED FROM TREASURY

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A clash between Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Milton E. Alles, vice-president of the Riggs National Bank of this city, is expected as a result of the summary ousting from the Comptroller's office of the Treasury Department of Miss Louisa Taylor, who for ten years, through an arrangement made by Alles, has been furnishing the National City Bank of New York with information concerning the condition of other national banks throughout the country.

Alles said today that he would make every effort to have the action of the Secretary in removing Miss Taylor rescinded.

"Miss Taylor has been getting the information for the National City Bank just as any other citizen had a right to do," he said.
He further said that Miss Taylor would be found in her accustomed place in the redemption division of the Treasury Department as the representative of the Riggs National Bank.

"I have never believed for a moment that I was doing anything wrong," said Miss Taylor. "If any bank was progressive enough to have a representative on hand to secure detailed statements of national banks as they were made public by the Comptroller, I cannot see that there was any violation of law in such procedure."

Secretary McAdoo does not attach any blame whatever to Miss Taylor.

Marshal's Club Kills Prisoner.
GRAVITY, Ia., April 25.—City Marshal Henry Knott killed Edward Brand with his club when taking Brand to the city jail. He asserts Brand resisted arrest. Knott is 70 years old, and a Civil War veteran.

JURY FINDS WOMAN IS OF SOUND MIND

Guardian for Mrs. Letitia Rice, Requested by Her Son, Is Refused.

Mrs. Letitia Rice of 4049 St. Louis avenue, widow of Thomas A. Rice, Thursday was declared to be of sound mind and able to transact her business affairs, by a jury in the Probate Court in a suit brought by her son, John V. Rice. She owns the property at 1504 to 1508 Chestnut street, valued by relatives at $20,000.

The son testified his mother was unable to recognize him, walked aimlessly about the house, and was not allowed to go out alone. He said she became lost two years ago and had to be brought home by a neighbor. He asked for the appointment of a guardian.

Dr. Louis C. Boisliniere and Dr. G. B. Kroeger testified they had attended Mrs. Rice for 18 months, and that her mind was feeble because of hardening of the arteries. They stated that in their opinion she is not capable of properly transacting her business affairs.

The jury was out only 10 minutes.

Her husband, a building contractor, died eight years ago.

MAYOR HAS NEW ORDERLY

Sergeant Loopker Transferred to Kiel's Office on Latter's Request.

Chief of Police Young announced Friday the transfer of Sergt. Charles Loopker from control of the traffic squad to the office of Mayor Kiel as sergeant orderly. Sergt. Harry Maloney, who has been attached to the Mayor's office for five years, will be sent to the Newstead Avenue Station unless room can be made for him in Central District. Sergt. Joseph Gerk of Central District was placed in charge of the traffic squad.

Loopker has been a close friend of Mayor Kiel, and it is understood the Mayor expressed a desire for the change. It is predicted that the board will sanction some changes of Lieutenants and Captains within a short time.

$3,500,000 BRIDGE BOND ISSUE TO BE SUBMITTED EARLY

Conferees Agree to Abandon Building Wagon Approach Out of City Revenue.

After discussing Free Bridge matters Thursday afternoon with Comptroller Player, President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements and committees from the Council and House, Mayor Kiel expressed himself as in favor of submitting a new and increased bond issue plan to the voters, "without any ifs, ands or buts." He meant by this that the questions of the east approach and the Southern Traction franchise would be left in abeyance until after the vote should be taken.

"I think the people will have sufficient confidence in us to believe that we will give them a square deal," he remarked.

So far as definite conclusions were reached by the conference, these conclusions were:

To submit to the people, probably in June, a proposition to issue $3,500,000 bonds to complete the bridge.

To abandon the plan to build the wagon approach from municipal revenue, which it was said would increase the tax rate 7 cents on the $100.

To take no action at present toward repealing the Southern Traction franchise. (The amending of the franchise was not discussed in detail.)

To make no move, before the election, for the repeal of the ordinance establishing the Reber approach, but to determine the approach question finally after the election.

To make the conference a permanent institution until the bridge is completed.

The conference was called at the suggestion of Mayor Kiel, Councilman Fletcher president. The first subject taken up for discussion was whether it was feasible to undertake to complete the wagon approach out of the municipal revenues, without waiting for a bond issue.

President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements estimated that the cost of the steel work of the wagon approach would be not less than $500,000. Comptroller Player stated that a seven cents increase in the tax rate, in addition to the three cents increase already approved, would be necessary to raise $500,000 out of the municipal revenue. This would increase the tax rate to $2.32. The present rate is $2.22.

With these figures before them the members of the conference decided that it would be unwise to attempt to take the money from the municipal revenue.

The conference then agreed to request the City Counselor to draft a bond issue election ordinance to be submitted to the Municipal Assembly immediately. Mayor Kiel said that he believed the people had sufficient confidence in the administration, comprised as it is of Democrats and Republicans, to vote the bond issue. He said the bond issue should be submitted within the next 60 days, so that the people would have a chance to vote on the proposition before they went away on their vacations.

Mayor Kiel said he believed that the repeal of the Southern Traction franchise and the final selection of the east side approach should be held in abeyance until after the bond election. He offered the suggestion that the Southern Traction franchise should be submitted to a vote of the people, by means of the initiative and referendum, to determine whether it should be repealed. This suggestion was not adopted.

The Mayor said that there was a public clamor for the repeal of the franchise, and that this clamor had been responsible for the plank in the Republican platform pledging its repeal. Six months ago, he said, all the newspapers seemed to favor its repeal.

"Things look different to you before an election, when you have no responsibility upon you, than after an election, when you have the responsibility," the Mayor said. "I think the people will have sufficient confidence in us to vote the bonds without the repeal of the franchise."

Kinsey said he had not determined what would be the best East Side approach. He was not in favor of the abandonment of the Reber approach until a better approach should be found.

Delegate Ebrecht suggested that the administration should tell the people just where it stood on the loop franchise and east approach proposition before asking them to vote the bonds.

"Unless you do this the bonds will be voted down," Ebrecht said.

City Counselor Baird told the conference that the city had no power to build, own and operate a street railway loop, such as the Southern Traction Co. proposes to build under its franchise. Delegates McCarthy and Gallagher spoke in defense of the franchise, declaring that it should not be repealed.

"What's the good of repealing this franchise?" asked Gallagher. "The city cannot build a loop. The only objection I have ever heard to this franchise is that Jep Howe is interested in it. Everybody opposed to it just sits up and yells: 'Jep Howe! Watch! Keep your hands on your pockets! If we had $2,000 Jep Howe in St. Louis we'd be doing something, instead of holding back all the time.'"

The former bond proposition was for $2,500,000. It was said that the $3,500,000 to provide for the construction of a southern approach on the west side, if it should be decided later to build it.

Three elections were held on the former proposition, and each time the "yes" vote was in the majority, but did not reach the required two-thirds. The first vote was taken at a special election in November, 1911, and the vote was: Yes, 31,619; no, 20,298. The second special election was held Aug. 5, 1912, and the vote was: Yes, 43,022; no, 24,620. The third special election was held in connection with the national and State election of last November. While this resulted in a larger vote, the result was no more favorable. The vote then was: Yes, 58,429; no, 50,000.

SALT WATER AT SUNSET INN; BUSCH PLANS SEA BEACH

Bathing Facilities May Be Provided at Place Which Has Been Closed to Public.

CLUB TAKES OVER TAVERN

Public Falls in Two Years to Support the Show Place in the County.

August A. Busch has struck salt water. A well of this thirst-producing fluid has just "come in" on the grounds of Sunset Inn, the $300,000 tavern built by Busch on the Graves road, five miles southwest of the city limits.

Busch plans to run the water into a natural depression near the inn, thus creating a salt water beach 1000 miles from the ocean. He believes the existence of such a beach near St. Louis would add greatly to the attractiveness of the inn.

Place Closed to Public.
Sunset Inn has been closed to the general public because of lack of popular support.

A trial extending through two seasons has convinced Busch that under existing conditions the general public will not maintain the inn. One of the principal drawbacks is lack of transportation. The Lakewood line, an extension of the Cherokee division, now runs within three miles of the inn. Plans for extending this line thus far have failed.

Sunset Inn was built with the expectation that it would appeal to the general public as one of the show places of St. Louis.

This expectation was not realized. Although it is one of the magnificent places of its kind, with every appointment for the accommodation of its guests, its support by the public has been so negligible that it has failed of its purpose.

Convinced that the beauties and attractions of the inn were not properly appreciated, Busch, at the opening of the present season decided to abandon the attempt to operate it as a public resort.

Club to Operate the Place.
Only those owning automobiles and the few who could be accommodated by a limited and intermittent bus service have been able to avail themselves of the attractions of the inn, which occupies one of the most beautiful sites in St. Louis County.

When August A. Busch decided to close the inn, the Sunset Hill Country Club agreed to take it over and operate it under a lease. The president of the club is former Judge Jesse A. McDonald, who Thursday was elected chairman of the Board of Freeholders. Eugene Angert is treasurer and Edward A. Benish secretary.

The club, which has a membership of 600, has started a campaign to increase its roster to 1000, with a membership fee of $10. This, it is believed, will yield sufficient revenue to pay the expenses of operating the inn without depending on the general public for support.

Officers of the club told a Post-Dispatch reporter that when the membership is large enough to justify it the inn dining room will be thrown open for members. Until then, all except unusually elaborate entertainments will be in the clubhouse.

More than a year was consumed in building the inn, which was completed in 1911. Money was spent without stint to make it one of the finest places of its kind in the West.

Rustic treatment and modern luxuries were skilfully blended in its design and in the interior finish. Among its features are a trophy room, a collage room, wonderful pergolas and porches fitted for outdoor dining and a mammoth ball room.

It was here that Miss Marie Busch, daughter of August A. Busch, made her debut Jan. 6 last, at a ball which was one of the most elaborate ever given for a St. Louis debutante.

Sunset Inn is 120 feet in height and has a frontage of 180 feet. So far as its exterior is concerned the entire structure is of rustic design. The foundations are of natural granite boulders. Split cedar trees, with their natural bark, form the exterior of the lower story, while the upper story is faced with birch bark. The rustic effect is carried out in the interior finish of several of the rooms. In the large reception hall the walls and ceilings, instead of being painted or papered, are covered with birch bark in skilfully blended hues and patterns. There is a hunting room filled with trophies and furnished in rustic style, with a fireplace of glacier stones from the Great Lakes.

The second floor dining room, 96 by 132 feet in area, is beautifully decorated in old ivory and Roman gold.

A feature of the inn is the wide porch which extends around three sides of it, with dining space for 400.

Busch's Foot-Comfort.

HELD FOR COCAINE SALE

Woman Sent to City Hospital Following Her Arrest.

Christina Lambert, 27 years old, was sent to the city hospital by the police Thursday night, following her arrest on a charge of selling morphine and cocaine illegally. Hospital surgeons declared she was suffering from nervousness.

Patrolmen arrested Mrs. Lambert at her home, 628 Clark avenue, after Frank J. Dumas, 28 South Broadway, informed them he had purchased a box of morphine for 10 cents and one of cocaine for 15 cents. He had been given a marked quarter which the patrolmen say they found in possession of Mrs. Lambert. She denied the sale.

The child fell clear of the wheels and suffered a few cuts and bruises. She had been walking with her mother and ran into the street in front of 4157 North Newstead avenue and stepped in front of the automobile.

Mrs. Blanche Koster of 3639 Cook avenue was served with a police court summons, charging careless driving after the automobile she drove knocked down Mrs. Grace Postlewait of Maplewood, who was carrying her infant in her arms.

Mrs. Koster was driving her machine on Washington avenue and struck Mrs. Postlewait as she got off of a Compton car at Seventh street. The woman and child were bruised, but neither was seriously injured.

Car Tosses Auto to curb.

Gustav Fuchs of 222 Shaw avenue escaped injury when the automobile which he was driving was struck by a north-bound Fourth street car at Grand avenue and Longfellow boulevard at 4 p. m. Thursday.

While driving south on Grand avenue, Fuchs tried to turn into Longfellow boulevard. The tonneau of the automobile had almost cleared the tracks when the car crashed into it, whirled it half-way around, and tossed it upon the curb. Fuchs climbed out unhurt.

The automobile, which is owned by John Meter of 1919 South Grand avenue, was damaged to the extent of $500.

Auto Hits Postwoman.
Patrolman Thomas Byrnes of the Deer Street Station suffered bruises of the left foot and leg Thursday evening when knocked down by an auto owned and driven, the police say, by Morris Goranik of 2624 Sheridan avenue. The accident happened at Euclid avenue and Page boulevard about 2:45 p. m., while Byrnes was seeing children of the Washington School safely across the street.

MISS LEISHMAN AS DUKE'S WIFE TO BE SPANISH PEERESS

BERLIN, April 25.—A message from Muenster, the capital of Westphalia, reports that the Duke of Crocy and Amy, ambassador Leishman's daughter, may take place in that city or at the family castle in Duesman, 17 miles distant.

Berlin society and newspapers are actively discussing the social position Miss Leishman will have as the Duke's bride.

"If the Duke of Crocy," the Tageblatt argues, "were simply a German Duke, whose ancestors for a short time held sovereign rights, there can be no question that he could only make Miss Nancy his morganatic wife. In any case, her son, if she has one, could not succeed to the family estates at Duesman, which are entailed to the male heirs from marriage of equal rank, nor could her children bear princely rank in Germany or take seats in the Prussian House of Lords."

"On the other hand, the Duke is also a peer in the old French nobility and a grandee of Spain. Therefore, it is quite possible that he can make Miss Nancy a French Duchess and perhaps a Spanish Peeress."

"The last time the question arose in connection with the marriage of Prince Emmanuel of Crocy with an English woman, Miss Elizabeth Mary Partoll, in 1875, the German Supreme Court denied to the children of that marriage the right to share the family property and divisible funds. Now they reside in France, where they are called Princes and Princesses, but their names do not appear in the Almanach de Gotha.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

They represent not only the most perfect style, the best tailoring, the most correct fitting and the highest class materials in all-wool fabrics, but they represent real value in clothes, greater value than the intrinsic cost of fine materials and workmanship, a value to you which isn't measured by the price you pay.

It is this larger idea of value and the fact that these clothes express this larger idea, which makes them so very popular.

Maximum Value at $25

At $25 you'll get an unusual amount of value out of a suit of clothes here; you can buy our clothes for less than that, $20, $18; you can pay more than that, $30, $35, $40; but $25 is a good average price and our Hart Schaffner & Marx suits at $25 will surprise you, particularly if you are accustomed to going to a custom tailor to have clothes made to measure; more particularly if you have patronized the so-called low-priced tailor; most particularly if you are getting what you think are made-to-measure clothes at $25 or less.

And you'll gain from $10.00 to $20.00, either in greater value at the price; or lower price for similar value.

Better see how true this is; $25 is a price you can afford, and you'll say so when you see the clothes. Better come and look at the new Spring styles.

HOBBO KING HAD FLOOD JOB

Jeff Davis Tells of 'Harrowing' Days in Ohio and Indiana.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Jeff Davis, "king of the hoboes," who wrenched the title from James Eads How of St. Louis a few months ago, arrived in Chicago, last night after what he termed a "harrowing experience."

"I've been in Ohio and Indiana for weeks," he said, "and I've been on every side, it's a like years. It was terrible."

The State and municipal authorities found work for "King" Davis while he was in the flooded district.

"TARIFF PRIMER" IS
RECITED BY HOUSE
CLERK AND MEMBER

Congressman Moore Has a New
Wrinkle Patterned in Form
After Plato's Republic.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 25.—With only three more days left for general debate on the Underwood tariff bill in the House, the prospect today was that the measure would pass the House and go to the Senate during the first week of May.

Majority Leader Underwood has given notice that general debate on the bill will close when the House adjourns Monday night. Tuesday the bill will be called up under the five-minute rule for reading and amendment. At that time it is the purpose of the majority to fix some limitation on amendments to hasten the bill along, this to guard against filibuster.

The original estimate of 50 hours' debate, made by the House leaders, will be cut down considerably, two days having passed without night sessions. Long sessions were planned for today and tomorrow, however.

Moore's Tariff Primer.
Representative J. Hampton Moore for the Republicans and Representative A. Mitchell Palmer for the Democrats, were leaders in the debate today.

Representative Moore introduced a novelty and for the first time in the history of Congress, as far as is known, a speech on the tariff was delivered by the reading of questions from the Speaker's rostrum and the delivery of replies from the floor.

Moore's speech was a "tariff primer," following the lines of Plato's Republic in form.

He sent to the desk a set of queries which the clerk propounded to him and Moore, in his answers, ran the gamut of tariff legislation and tariff dogma.

"When was the first tariff act passed?" asked the clerk.

"The first act passed was a tariff act," replied Moore. "It was approved by President Washington July 4, 1789, and was regarded as an American declaration of commercial independence."

"What do you mean by the Underwood bill?" quizzed the clerk.

"The bill introduced by Chairman Underwood, the exponent in the House of the theories of President Wilson," was the reply. And so the questions and answers ran on.

Attacks the Democrats.
Moore charged the Democrats with continually misrepresenting the tariff question, declared the present Payne tariff law revised the tariff downward, and when the clerk asked why people complained if they enjoyed such wonderful progress, Moore replied:

"They listened to ambitious politicians, agitators without conscience, journalistic organs with axes to grind, magazines seeking pap, essayists who found it more convenient to write fiction than to work, theoretical college professors, nonproducers generally, and a few sincere reformers usually misinformed and frequently misled."

LEAD COMPANY QUARREL
NOT ENDED, SAYS HOLMES

St. Louis Stockholder Declares
Peace Can Come Only When Officers Are Dismissed.

Robert Holmes, fighting minority stockholder in the St. Joseph and Doe Run Lead companies, which are seeking to merge, indignantly denied Friday that harmony had been restored among the stockholders. Holmes said there could be no harmony until the president, treasurer and general manager of the two companies had been discharged.

Holmes has suits pending in St. Francis County to compel reorganization of the two companies. He is also arming himself with proxies for the annual meeting of the stockholders of the St. Joseph Lead Co., which will be held in New York, May 15.

There was a meeting at the St. Louis Union Trust Co. Thursday of a stockholders' committee that is investigating the affairs of the companies. Holmes says the committee sent for him and asked what it was that he wanted.

He says he replied that he wanted Dwight A. Jones, the president; Huzar N. Camp Jr., treasurer, and P. R. S. Parsons, vice-president and general manager, all relieved of their offices in the two companies. Holmes was informed that his demands would be taken under consideration and until he gets an answer, he says, there can be no harmony.

U. S. AFTER YEAR'S WAIT
TO REPAY A $25 REWARD

Army Officers Gave Money for Moros' Capture and Reimbursement Had Been Refused.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Officers of the United States army who paid $25 reward for the capture of a band of hostile Moros in the Philippines who threatened American life and property by their possession of a large quantity of dynamite stolen from the army will be reimbursed after a year of controversy over the legality of their payment.

Auditors disapproved the account, but Comptroller Tracewell ordered it paid. The explosive was stolen from Camp Overton, Mindanao.

"The right to protect human life and Government property," the Comptroller said, "is inherent. To have this dynamite in possession of the enemy along the Overton-Keithley trail over which Government property was being transported would have been dangerous not only to the property but the lives of the officers and men as well."

JULIUS LEHMANN, FORMER ASSEMBLY MEMBER, DIES

Sent to Prison in Folk Boodle
Prosecution, Citizenship Restored Recently.

Julius Lehmann, 63 years old, a former member of the House of Delegates, and one of the St. Louis lawmakers who was sentenced to the penitentiary in the street-lighting franchise bribery cases prosecuted by former Gov. Folk, died Thursday night at Ellen Osborn Hospital of heart trouble, from which he had suffered a year and a half. He was released from prison five years ago, and had been living in his old home, 3317 North Twenty-third street. His citizenship was restored a few weeks ago by Gov. Major, after friends had appealed to the executive, stating that Lehmann's death was only a matter of a short time.

Lehmann was known as "the man who put the lights on the water tower" in North St. Louis. He was often called "Whistling Julius," because of his ability as a whistler and his cheerful disposition.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Louis Hartwick, Mrs. Lawrence Scully and Mrs. Herman Muehlenberg, and two sons, Charles and Julius Jr. The funeral will be held Monday morning from St. Augustine's Church to Calvary Cemetery.

MOTORCYCLE MISSIONARIES

St. Louis Women Equip Texas
Field Workers With Machines.
Women church workers of St. Louis have contributed $500 for the purchase of motor cycles for missionaries in the Southwest, to enable them to cover their field in quicker time than with the customary horse and buggy, according to the announcement Thursday of the Rev. H. Percy Silver, secretary of the Board of Strategy of the Missionary Department of the Southwest, in an address at the Episcopal Diocesan Institute at St. Peter's Parish House.

The Rev. Mr. Silver stated that he had just purchased and shipped two motor cycles to missionaries in Texas who will try out the experiment. It is planned to equip all missionaries in that district with motor cycles if the movement proves a practical speed success.

Mr. E. W. Rose,
President, E. W. Rose Medicine Company,
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Mr. Rose:
I take great pleasure in saying that I have used your Toilet Soap, "Zemo," for the past six months, and must say it surpasses any other Soap that I have ever used. Doubtless you are well aware of the trouble we have in the Theatrical profession with the grease paint.

I find that "Zemo" Soap keeps my complexion always fresh and healthy, and its antiseptic properties are invaluable to the actress on the stage.

Please send me another box of Zemo Soap, care of the Olympic Theatre, St. Louis, where I will appear in the "Ziegfeld Follies," week of April 20.

With kindest regards, I remain,

Yours very truly,

Ethel A. Kelley.

It imparts new life and vitality to the skin, is a soothing, thorough antiseptic and prevents facial eruptions as well as roughness and dryness. It will restore and renew the poor complexion, just as it will preserve and protect the good. Miss Kelley makes no secret of the means she employs. If you seek the same clear, beautiful skin—free from blemishes and blotches—try ZEMO, the perfect Soap. If you doubt it, see Miss Kelley at the Olympic next week.

PRESIDENT IN 52 MINUTES HEARS 29 MEN DISCUSS JOBS

WASHINGTON, April 25.—President Wilson occupied his room at the Capitol for 52 minutes Thursday afternoon, made a whirlwind distribution of patronage, shook hands with 18 Senators and 19 Representatives, said something pleasant to each, and seemed in better spirits and livelier mood than at any previous time since entering the White House.

Not a minute was wasted. Secretary Tumulty took out a bunch of papers and laid them on the table. As each Senator or Representative entered, his name was checked off. When a prospective nomination was approved by the visitor it was also checked in the same manner. The entire procedure was most businesslike.

The door stood ajar a large part of the time. As a general rule two or three visitors were in the room at once, the President leading each into a corner and talking to him a few minutes in a low tone.

In the allotted time the President conferred with Senators Gore, Sheppard, Fletcher, Sterling, Crawford, Chamberlain, Lane, Cummins, Smith of Georgia, Shields, La Follette, Tillman, Chittenden, Townsend, Ashurst and Bacon, and Representatives Collier, Steven, Oldfield, Goodwin, Hughes, Howard, Ball, Akin, Kent, Wingo, Bailey and Nakar.

Senator Fletcher urged the President to appoint W. W. Lillard of Pennsylvania as Public Printer, and Representatives Oldfield, Goodwin, Collier, Stephens, Hughes, Howard and Ball urged W. V. Turley of Chattanooga for the same place.

When the hearings were over Secretary Tumulty grabbed his bunch of papers and the party left for the White House.

BUILDING OF NEW CHARTER FOR CITY TO BEGIN IN WEEK

Board of Freeholders Starts Organization by Making Jesse McDonald Chairman.

With the election of former Judge Jesse McDonald as chairman of the Board of Freeholders, and the appointment of a committee to select permanent headquarters, the members of the board expect within a week to begin the actual work of making a proposed new charter for St. Louis.

McDonald was elected chairman at the second board meeting, held in Mayor Kiel's office at the city hall, Thursday afternoon. The board held a short executive session to vote on the chairmanship. On the first ballot votes were cast for McDonald, Selden P. Spencer and Frederick N. Judson. Before the second ballot Judson withdrew, stating that his professional duties were such that he could not accept the chairmanship. After a preference had been indicated for Judge McDonald, the executive session was brought to an end, and McDonald was elected unanimously.

Lawyer for Secretary. No secretary was selected out of the 14 candidates. A committee comprised of C. W. Rutledge, Charles Hertenstein and Edward Flad was appointed to investigate the qualifications of the candidates for secretary and report to the board at its next meeting.

Fourteen young lawyers are seeking the appointment. Among them are Leighton Shields, Wilbur B. Jones, H. C. Whitehill, V. C. R. Lacy, William H. Killborn, Herbert Arnstein, W. W. Herron, William H. Schaumburg, Christy M. Farrar, Thomas J. Gannon and Paul Bakewell Jr. Several other young lawyers have sought the appointment, but have requested members of the board not to make public their names.

Former Judge Spencer, Thomas J. Rowe and Col. Fred Gardner were appointed a committee to select permanent headquarters. The suggestion was made that the committee ascertain whether the board could get the use of the general term headquarters of the Circuit Judges at the Court House, and thereby save office rent and furniture bills. The former board spent $500 for rent and furniture.

After the board selects its permanent headquarters, it will invite the public to make suggestions as to what should go into the proposed charter.

Urges Economy in Work. Samuel Rosenfeld urged an economic administration of board matters and recommended that an appropriation of only $20,000 be asked for instead of a proposed request for $25,000, for the same amount appropriated for the last board. C. W. Rutledge insisted that the appropriation should be at least $25,000, because of the additional expense necessary to publish the sections of the proposed charter as they were approved by the board. The members decided to ask the Municipal Assembly to appropriate $25,000 for its work.

Rosenfeld explained to a Post-Dispatch reporter his opinion on the phase of the question pertaining to the requirement that each section of the proposed charter be printed in the newspapers as it is approved by the board.

He said that in his opinion all of the St. Louis newspapers will be eager to print each section as news in their news columns free of cost as soon as it is available.

Great Public Work. He said that he considered the building of a new charter as a great public work in which all of the residents of the city are interested as forming the basis of the city organization and laws, and for that reason, he believed, the newspapers will be glad to publish the transactions of the board as news matter at no cost to the board. This wide publicity, he said, will, in his opinion, fulfill the requirements of the ordinance and will save a large expenditure.

He declared that economy of expense and the prompt publication in the news columns of newspapers will win the good will of the voters and result in the support of the completed charter at the polls.

Publication Clause. Rutledge said that his construction of the clause directing the board to publish as advertising matter each section as approved, will not be fulfilled by publication in the news columns of the newspapers. He declared that the published notices must be certified by the publisher, and must be an official publication and not news matter.

The clause, he said, requires that the sections as approved shall be published "in the newspapers of St. Louis." This apparently requires that the official notices be printed in all newspapers, he said, and would cost a large sum.

It would be possible, he stated, for the board not to approve any section until the final draft is completed, and then have the entire charter printed. This, in his opinion, would not meet the aim of the law and would not inform the public as to the work of the board as intended.

235-YEAR CONVICT FREE

TOPEKA, Kan., April 25.—J. N. Baker, who several years ago was convicted on 19 counts of forging express money orders at Harper, Kan., and given cumulative sentences aggregating 25 years in the penitentiary, was paroled by Gov. Hodges today.

Baker was express agent and railroad depot agent at Harper when he was arrested for forgery. He was paroled three years ago by Gov. Reubens. He obtained another railroad position and for a time made a good record, but his parole was revoked when the Governor was informed that he had made false representations to a Wisconsin girl to whom he was engaged.

Adolph Kalter, 69 years old, a retired grain dealer, collapsed and fell to the

BRYCE QUILTS POST AS AMBASSADOR TO THE U. S.

Will Say Farewell in New York Tonight After Six Years of Service.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—British Ambassador Bryce today laid down the office he has held here more than six years and departed for New York to begin his trip home.

Tonight in New York he will say his farewell to the United States at dinner of the Pilgrims Society, and Monday he will meet his successor, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice.

Then Mr. Bryce and Mrs. Bryce will go overland to San Francisco to sail for Yokohama on May 3, touching at Honolulu. They will spend some time in China and Japan, where Mr. Bryce will study the evolution of the new Chinese republic and then proceed to London by way of Siberia.

HYOMEI RELIEVES IN FIVE MINUTES

Help Comes Quickly When Hyomei Is Used for Catarrh.

Quick relief comes from the Hyomei treatment for catarrh and all troubles of the breathing organs such as stopped-up head, sniffling or morning chocking. Put a few drops of liquid Hyomei in the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and before you have used the treatment five minutes you will notice relief from your catarrhal troubles.

It gives a tonic healing effect to the air you breathe, kills the catarrhal germs, stops the poisonous secretions, soothes the irritated mucous membrane and makes a marked improvement in the general health.

Hyomei is not a cure-all; it has but one aim, the relief of catarrh and diseases of the breathing organs. When there is no catarrh, the general health is improved, for then nature has a chance to build up the entire system.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing and feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomei at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give a quick and permanent relief.

Hyomei does not contain cocaine or any habit-forming drug. The complete outfit costs $1.00, extra bottles if later needed, 50 cents. Druggists everywhere.—ADY.

Physician Gives Recipe for Stomach Trouble

Well-Known Physician and Author Gives Simple Home Recipe for Stomach Trouble.

Dr. Stanton Burroughs, a well-known physician and author said recently in a talk regarding stomach troubles: "Thousands of people suffer needlessly from different forms of stomach trouble." If stomach sufferers would use the following simple recipe there would be few, if any, cases of stomach trouble in the country. Obtain from any drug store an ounce of Peppermint put in a tablet form. Take one tablet after each meal or at any time when there is stomach distress. You will be surprised how quickly your stomach trouble will disappear. Peppermint ends dyspepsia and indigestion and will stop heartburn and sour stomach in from three to five minutes. It is a home recipe that can be relied upon and costs very little.—ADY.

PRESS OF LONDON JEERS AT BRYAN'S 'TEETOTAL PUNCH'

Paper Says Since Wineless Dinner Capital Is Destined to Be Known as 'Wishy Washington.'

LONDON, April 25.—"Teetotal diplomacy," as suggested by the innovation at Washington, in Secretary of State Bryan's wineless dinner to the foreign diplomats, is receiving considerable attention from the press.

The Daily News raises the question whether the American Secretary has a real "moral right" to send round the teetotal punch and condemn his enforced guests to ice water? and asks if "this new form of tyranny may not lead to some horrid consequence by upsetting the digestion and temper of some old-fashioned diplomat?"

It adds: "There is more in this than meets the eye, even though the punch bowl be without guile."

The Pall Mall Gazette makes a similar gibe and concludes that "the capital of the great republic is destined to become known as 'Wishy Washington.'"

Bryan Says He Explained Winelessness to Guests.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Secretary of State Bryan, who last Monday night gave a dinner in honor of Ambassador and Mrs. James Bryce of England and served no wines, said yesterday:

"I told them, when we sat down to the table, that Mrs. Bryce and I had been teetotallers from our youth, as were our parents before us, and had never served liquor at our table; that when the President was kind enough to tender me the portfolio of state, I asked him whether our failure to serve wine would be any embarrassment to the administration, and that he generously left the matter to our discretion.

"I suggested that I thought it unfair to assume that those coming to us from abroad would judge us harshly or be unwilling to tolerate the maintenance of a traditional custom, and expressed the hope that our friendship would be made so apparent to them and our hospitality so cordial that they would overlook this weakness in us, if they regarded it as a weakness. My remarks were applauded by the company and we never spent a more enjoyable evening."

"That is all there is to the matter, and we consider the incident closed and the custom established so far as we are concerned."

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made Friday of the engagement of Miss Henrietta Erwin, daughter of Maj. James B. Erwin, U. S. A., and Mrs. Erwin, to Lieut. Richard Hill, U. S. N.

Miss Erwin returned about 10 days ago with her mother, who was formerly Miss Isabel Doan of St. Louis. They are guests of Mrs. Erwin's daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Walsh of 473 Westminister place.

The wedding will take place in November, when Maj. Erwin returns from his detail at Manila, but just when and where has not yet been decided. The bride-elect made her debut here two years ago under the chaperonage of Mrs. Walsh, while Maj. and Mrs. Erwin were stationed at Chicago. She has been belle here and in Manila and has much of the charm for which the women of the Doan family are known.

Lieut. Hill is on duty at Annapolis, where he was graduated from the naval academy in 1907.

MR. LOUIS CHAUVENET of 20 Westmoreland place will give a tea Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in honor of her niece, Miss Eleanor Whitner Allen of Boston, who is visiting her. Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen, formerly of St. Louis.

The marriage of Miss Paula Glaser, daughter of Mrs. David Glaser of 1933 Cherokee street, to Dr. Samuel Ostfeld has been set for Tuesday evening. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride.

The Century Boat Club will close its formal social season with a ball Friday evening. A special car at 1:30 a. m. will bring the club members back to town. The attractive clubhouse on the bluffs of the Mississippi River at 5600 South Broadway is the scene throughout the year of a number of entertainments that are remarkable in their completeness and hospitality.

The summer calendar is replete with garden parties, boating trips, alfresco suppers and concerts, to which the club is well adapted.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter Jr. of Pittsburg, Pa., are here for a brief visit and are stopping with Mrs. Hostetter's sister, Mrs. Edward F. Goltz of Lindell boulevard. They will return home Tuesday.

Mrs. Powhatan H. Clarke, her son, Powhatan Clarke, and her sister, who returned several days ago from Camden, S. C., have given up their house at 437 Maryland avenue and taken apartments at the Buckingham Hotel.

"SLEEP AT NIGHT" SHOULD BE FINE MOTTO FOR CARDS

It Might Break Them of Slumbering on the Bases in Day Time.

HUGGINS STILL HOPEFUL

Leader of Local Club Expects His Men to Get Started in Short Time.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Every good ballplayer should sleep at night. The performer who elects to snooze on first or second base while a battle is being waged is liable to have a bad awakening. Indeed, Miller Huggins, O'Leary and Ivey Wingo all witness Friday that it is unwise to have your slumber rudely shattered by the guttural squawk of an umpire: "You're out."

There's some excuse for Hug being caught off first in the opening round of Thursday's battle, because Miller had been riding all night and part of the morning on a train from Cincinnati. He was picked off by George Suggs, Hoblittell and Tinker. But there's little leeway for O'Leary, who pulled a "Bill Burns" in the fourth, or Ivey Wingo, who star-gazed in the fifth. Suggs trapped 'em both and broke up pert rallies.

Withal it made little difference, as the Reds were breezing out in front by six lengths at the time. However, it's bad baseball and cannot be passed unnoticed.

Huggins would trim staff. Huggins is having a tough time cutting down his pitching staff. He felt would decapitate three heads before the Cards start next Tuesday. He still has 11 hurlers and aims to carry no more than eight. However, each man he picks to pass up has come to life with bang-up games of late and Hug's task is anything but easy. It might be well, though, to threaten Harmon, Sallee and Burk with a minor league sentence if such treatment would have the same effect as it did on Peritt and Steele, who did so well against the Pirates.

Last spring Ed Koney lifted the ball at a 400 pace for the first three weeks of the season. This year the Big Train was off to a bum start, but he has landed with a sudden jerk. In his last eight trips to the pan he has collected three triples and two doubles, for a grand average of .65. He has hit for 23 bases in eight times up, a record to be proud of.

Mowrey at His Best. Mowrey also is hitting and the Tilden-haired third sacker is otherwise playing up to a high standard, even though he has muffed a few tall fouls. However, Mowrey is truer hard and his attempts to steal have been picked. He's leading the Cards in base running to date, having been successful in four of his five attempts.

Lee Magee, who has been shifted hither and yon, is hitting none too well, but he has the aggressiveness to keep at it. O'Leary is doing little with the bat while Oakes and Evans are connecting only in spots.

Withal Manager Huggins isn't grievously worried. "The season is young and we're not getting the worst start in the League, at that," declared the Cardinal commander Friday. "We had a poor training season and we're paying up for it, but now that Koney is going at top speed I look for the club to round to. Our pitchers have disappointed, but I think Harmon and Sallee will soon be on the road to recovery."

"You know a ball club can get going in a day, and once we start we'll win as many games as we lose. I think we have as good a road club as any in the League, and I look for a prosperous trip, starting next Wednesday. We're away for 23 days and should have easier pickings in Boston and Brooklyn."

For the remainder of the stay at home, though, Hug will have his men out for morning practice each day.

CARDINALS' GAME OFF

The second game between the Cardinals and Reds, scheduled for Friday afternoon, was called off at noon on account of rain. It will be played on the Reds next trip here.

WRAY'S COLUMN

And They That Will Not See.

A FIELD meet for the blind will be held at Lansing, Mich., in which teams representing several institutions will take part. Among other blind eligibles not members of any institution, we suggest: All major league umpires. Eastern soccer referees (ask the Innisfalls). Mal Doyle's fight stable. Overer Naylor, who can't see Ty Cobb's demands. All card players who think they can "see" a full house with a two pair hand. Dan Cusick. Backers of the Boston Braves. And the man who can't see the finish of the Federal League.

Getting a Reputation.

A L WASEM's victory over Max Luttbeg puts St. Louis in a class by itself. In fact, the Mound City is the only burg of note in the country able to stage four successive wrestling matches without an offending odor arising therefrom.

Generally one mat bout is enough to pollute a neighborhood. Waseem, whose victory puts him in line for the championship, is one of the still uncontaminated good men in the game. Not the suspicion of a smirch rests on the modest young artisan who works for a living by day and wrestles for fame by night.

Perhaps He's Not Born, Yet.

W. proving him the championship some day, even though John Billiter, the title holder, is at present a stronger boy in the matter of mere endurance. If the influences that usually undermine wrestlers' moral standards mercifully pass by Waseem, St. Louis may be able to boast an unusual possession: That of a wrestling champion who is on the level.

Nothing in Mat Game.

WASEM has one advantage over most wrestlers—so far he hasn't employed his mat skill to earn his living. He depends on other work of his hands for that. The attendance at the Thursday match between Waseem and Luttbeg may have netted Waseem perhaps $150. In his previous matches with Young Beel, Young Gutch and Wirth he has not averaged $40 an appearance. Each $40 represented many weeks of training, nights of practice and years of learning. To add to his sacrifices, the sport is one of the most wearing of any. It is a tougher game than boxing, by far, and there is little in it for any contestant but abuse and suspicion.

Can Wrestling "Come Back?"

THAT Waseem has gone through all of this for the mere sport of the thing indicates that there's hope of restoring the sport to the place it held at the top of the list of all physical contact games. Wrestling is the oldest pastime in the world. Probably the first two men born indulged in it, for it is a natural test of strength along the most primitive lines. Man's wits have elaborated on it until today it is a scientific exposition of the laws of leverage. As such it is entitled to recognition.

But unfortunately the players of this game have also tried the leverage on the pocketbooks of the public, with such signal effect that the public has lost confidence—and confidence is needed.

Can't Win With Weak Pitching.

IF you really want to gauge the relative value of the great batter and the great pitcher, cast an eye over the Cleveland-Detroit box score of Thursday. There you will find that Vean Gregg, assisted by the ordinary batters of the club, trimmed the Tigers, 5-3. Neither Jackson, who is after Cobb's laurels, nor Lajoie, who has always been a contender for hitting championships, made a safe drive during the game.

The conclusion is: A truly great pitcher can win with average batting support; but the greatest hitters fail to rescue a team whose pitching is weak.

This accounts for the failure of the Tigers to win a world's championship.

M'CARTY REFUSES $22,500, TO AVOID TOUGH OPPONENTS

Could Have Had Fortune by Fighting Wells and Gunboat Smith.

By Robert Edgren.

A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Champion McCarty is now in hard training for his match with Moran—no, not Owen Moran, the lightweight, the Pittsburg Moran. McCarty is planning a desperate campaign.

It is not often that we see these big fellows willing to take all sorts of "laka." Luther is the exception to the rule. A few days ago he encountered Jim Flynn, the big noise from Cripple Creek. If he survives the coming tangle with mule-kick Moran, known in punching circles as the "Pittsburg Bull," he will bring his way through the clamorous press of theatrical agents and rush daintily to Calgary, Ontario, Northwestern Canada. There he will meet the survivor of the devastating combat between Mountainous Morris and Fia-Bitter Polky.

Being busy with these large affairs, McCarty will pass up the challenges of "Gunboat" Smith, Willard and other insignificant persons with the utter contempt they deserve.

How Careless of McCarty.

Met Gunboat Smith at an ice cream soda fountain. "Gee!" said Smith, "I wonder if I'll be able to reach that Willard's jaw. If I can't I'll sure get to his body. The only thing that's worrying me is the thought of all the money McCarty is losing. Seems to me he's awful careless about money. He's just tossed away $22,500. Ten thousand of that he slipped by not fighting Wells. The other $12,500 Gibson offered him for fighting me."

"Say, I'd fight Madison Square Garden full of mountain lions for that money. And think of McCarty turning it down. That's what gets my goat! He won't fight me under any circumstances after he sat close to the ring the night I met Wells. Ain't that a shame? I'd be getting some money out of it myself and I ain't so rich yet that I don't want a few dollars more."

SPORT SALAD

ALL LOOKED ALIKE.

WHEN "Sally" and Burk failed in heading the Reds, they put in Mr. Redding. They then took a flyer With Willis and Geyer—But the Cards found it pretty tough sledding.

That soft spot didn't materialize. They all look easy when they're far away.

On the square, now, did you ever catch a fish with a bent pin? Or did you ever know of a boy who did? We opine not.

Pittsburg has clinched the pennant in the National Billiard League. St. Louis finished in first division, where in we have claimed all along they would.

Jack Johnson pleaded nolo contendere and was fined $1500-$1000 for the nolo and $500 for the contendere.

President Wilson is making good. He stretches in the seventh inning, which is proper time for all good fans and true to stretch.

G LOOMY GUS lined out three triples! That looks pretty good to us.

Over his face a smile now ripples. And we call him Sunny Gus.

MIDLAND CLUB TO LAY CORNER STONE SATURDAY

The formal laying of the cornerstone of the Midland Valley Golf Club will take place Saturday afternoon at 3:30. The invocation by Dean Carroll M. Davis of Christ Church Cathedral will be followed by a short address by Thomas H. Cobbs. The club officers, donated by President Frank M. Carter, then will be hoisted.

Lee Talbot to Defend Title.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 25.—Lee Talbot, who holds the intercollegiate record of 117 feet in the 36-pound hammer throw, left here last night for Philadelphia, where he will compete Saturday in the Pennsylvania Games. Talbot will represent the Kansas City Athletic Club.

Cardinals Make but Three Runs on 13 Safeties

Reds Score 10 Times on 14 Hits—That's Enough Said.

Four triples, as many doubles and six singles shot from the heavy field guns of the Rhineland artillery put the Cards to rout in utter disorder Thursday afternoon at the Britton pasture. On 14 hits the Reds collected 10 runs, while the Cards counted only three times in 13 safe knocks.

It was Cincinnati's day to win. The Tinkerties, after being bumped from pillar to post by the Cubs and Pirates, came to life with a vengeance and treated Harry Sallee the same as they did Sanford Burk and Phil Redding. Nothing but the Chinese wall could have stopped the visitors. They were "due."

The Reds have won two games this season and both from the Cardinals. Only for Hug's team, Tinker's crowd would hardly be in the League.

Ed Koney contributed all the runs for the Cards, and the massive first sacker gave another rare exhibition of long-distance waiting. His triple scored Mowrey in the fourth frame, while Ed later pambled home on Evans' sacrifice drive to Matsura. In the eighth Koney again tripled and scored on Oakes' infield hit. Koney also opened the sixth with a double, but couldn't get farther than third, as Oakes, Oakes and O'Leary were unequal to the occasion.

Manager Huggins benched Steve Evans after the Cardinals had registered two swat failures and sent Teddy Cather to right. Ted also failed to break into the "hit" column. Evans probably will be back at the old stand when the Cards again face the Reds.

It is pertinent to remark again that baseball fans are a difficult lot. They now are idolizing Ed Koney, who a few days back was hooted and hissed because he couldn't hit. Now the Big Train is murdering ball. He had a double and triple to left and a triple to right center in his credit Thursday, indicating that he's hitting to all fields.

Bob Becher ranged along the left field fence, playing the deepest outer defense of any fielder ever seen at Robison Field. When Koney was at bat, Withal, he couldn't break up the Big Train's attack. ## Max Luttbeg Succumbs to TWO MORE HOPES Wasem's Youth and Speed Veteran's Arm Dislocated

Victory of St. Louis Wrestler Puts Him in Line for Bout With Champion Johnny Billiter, of Cleveland—Luttbeg Thinks Local Boy Can Win.

By Harry S. Sharpe.

Referee for the Columbian Athletic Club and the Post-Dispatch Wrestling and Boxing Authority.

L. WASEM advanced another step toward the lightweight wrestling championship Thursday night when he disposed of Max Luttbeg in rather easy fashion at the Columbian Athletic Club, winning the match in straight falls, the first in 31 minutes and 25 seconds and the next in one minute and 12 seconds. Both falls were secured by the use of a head scissors hold and a left-arm barlock.

After the first fall Luttbeg remained at full length on the mat for several seconds and then called for a physician, complaining that his left shoulder had been hurt. Dr. E. Voerster Jr. responded and reported that Luttbeg had suffered a partial dislocation of the shoulder. The doctor reduced the dislocation and said Luttbeg would be able to go on for the second bout, but that the shoulder was weakened and would be a serious handicap.

Luttbeg's backer and his seconds were willing that he should quit, but the wrestler determined to return to the mat and do the best he could. However, after that he was no match for Wasem and the latter had little trouble in again securing the hold by which Luttbeg had been thrown in the first fall. Max cried out with pain and gave up the match.

Wasem's Great Speed Enables Him

to Pin Luttbeg for the First Fall

THE ending of the first bout came so suddenly that a fall had been gained before enough had been done to arouse excitement among the spectators. Luttbeg had been on top for some time, when Wasem suddenly drew out to one side and in another moment was on top. Before even Luttbeg could realize what was happening Wasem reversed his position and, pulling Luttbeg over by a head scissors hold, he clamped on a head scissors and then bent back Luttbeg's left arm for a barlock in much the same position that he would have applied a hammerlock, except that the arm was held straight out.

When the wrestlers returned to the mat for the second bout, Wasem lost no time and soon had Luttbeg on the defensive. Some fast work was done by both in feinting for holds, and they went to the mat, with Wasem on top. The South St. Louis boy was far more aggressive now than he had been any time in the match and most of his efforts were directed at Luttbeg's injured shoulder, with the latter doing the best he could to ward off attack. Wasem never faltered for an instant and soon had Luttbeg turned on his back making desperate efforts to keep his

Williams Recovers Batting Eye and Mitchell Flings a Good Game.

By Clarence F. Lloyd

Of the Post-Dispatch Sporting Staff.
CHICAGO, April 25.—Roy Mitchell and Gus Williams finally came through for the Browns. This pair of players has been a bit backward in making good this spring; but Mitchell's clever pitching performance and Williams' great slugging against the White Sox yesterday rewarded Manager Stovall for the faith he has pinned in the two huskies.

It was Mitchell's curve and slow ball that held the Sox to a single run, while it was Williams' trio of triples that was mainly responsible for the three markers credited to the St. Louisans.

Williams has been going so poorly recently that Manager Stovall was on the verge of taking him out of the batting order. However, delayed in each day, fully believing that the next would be Gus' time to break into the hit column. He did that in great fashion yesterday.

Opposed to Mitchell was Eddie Cicotte, the Red Sox castoff, who has been showing brilliantly this season. He went to a 4-0 draw with Mitchell for the first six rounds. Then, Williams' second triple followed a pass to Shotton and Johnston's sacrifice. The blow scored a run and put the Browns in front.

Sox Tie the Score.

The Sox tied it up in their half of the seventh, however. One was gone when Walter Mattick, the St. Louis boy, dropped a single over Pratt's head. On a hit-and-run play he moved to second, while Mitchell and Stovall retired Jones. Then "Buck" Weaver, who was in the game up to his neck in a hitting and fielding way, came through with a single that scored the first Sox run and tied up the score, 1-1. It remained that way only until Williams clubbed out his third triple in round eight. With Shotton gone, Johnston rapped a single to right. Then Gus smote the ball to left for three bases and Jonathan from Longview came home. Next Pratt hit a long sacrifice fly to Collins and Williams crossed with the second St. Louis run of the round.

While that ended the scoring in the game, Sox rooters were given hope in the ninth when Borton and Easterly, swinging first in the ninth, each singled. Zeider, who ran for Borton, going to second on a sacrifice fly. Manager Callahan sent in Shaller, an ex-Tiger, to run for Easterly. Mattick, who already owned two singles off Mitchell, could only pop to Wallace.

Then Mitchell curved over a third strike on Jackson Fournier, the Frenchman, who swung for Dave Jones. That put two down and put it up to Ping Bodie, ex-fence buster.

His best was a roller to Pratt, who scooped up the ball and stepped on second, forcing Shaller for the final demise of the game.

Williams, despite the fact that he is a left-handed hitter, showed his ability to slug by poling his first triple to left, midway between Jones and Mattick. His next was to the extreme right-hand corner of the lot, while his third was a roller just inside the third base line.

And don't overlook the fact that Sam Agnew was in the game. Despite the fact that his twisted ankle is far from healed, the big backstop gamely donned the mask and pad and got into the fray. His handling of Mitchell's shoots was a feature. He also flagged the lone White Sox who attempted to steal, making a perfect throw to Pratt when Collins went down in the opening series.

Even with the season so very early, Agnew has drawn this boost from Manager Stovall: "I don't know of any catcher in the League that I would trade Sam for."

Missouri Towns in New Six-Club League; Season Opens May 3

HARRISONVILLE, Mo., April 25.—A baseball league akin to the Missouri-Illinois Trolley League has been organized, with Pleasant Hill, Harrisonville, Archie, Lamar, Rich Hill and Nevada as members. The new league is to be known as the Missouri Pacific League, and the following officers have been elected to look after the business interests of the association: President, F. E. Ralston of Rich Hill; secretary, Levi Smith of Harrisonville; treasurer, Charles W. Archer of Picher.

It is possible that Nevada will not come into the league and in that event Butler will continue to play. The season will open the first of May and close the last Sunday in September, during which time only Sunday and holiday games will be played. Two per cent of the total receipts of each game will be set aside for the running expenses of the league. Each team will be allowed to carry 11 men and all games will be played on a 90 and 40 per cent basis, with the expenses of the club guaranteed. Case County, with teams at Harrisonville, Pleasant Hill and Archie, will be well represented and will make a strong bid for the pennant.

LATE RALLY GIVES SMITH VICTORY OVER SOLDAN, 6-5

Smith Academy's baseball team found itself in the seventh session of its battle with Soldan at Smith campus and won out in a dramatic finish, 6-5. The red and white boys put over the winning run in the last, as Smith's hitting helped Smith to victory, although Wilson's excellent pitching played a minor part. Duckworth started for Soldan, but gave way to Walker at the wind-up.

White Sox Say Ed Walsh's Arm Is About Gone

Benz or Lange to Oppose Browns' in Chicago Game Today.

CHICAGO, April 25.—There's a rumor afloat here, in fact some of the Browns heard it from the Chicago players, that Ed Walsh's arm is gone. He injured the mighty right in an exhibition game in St. Joe before the season opened, but showed no traces of the hurt when he struck out three Brownies with the bases packed in that memorable game in St. Louis.

But Walsh was knocked off the hill in last Sunday's game by the Naps and it is now announced that he is incapacitated. Coming from the Chicago players there is evidently more truth than fiction to the yarn, and if Walsh is through it's good-bye Sox.

OLIVE Tablets OIL the Bowels

A Physician's Substitute for Dangerous Calomel

When you feel that your liver and bowels need help take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Substitute for Calomel. Calomel is effective, but dangerous—causing bad after-effects.

Olive Tablets are especially made to take the place of Calomel. Dr. Edwards for years has been Calomel's foe. He saw its dangers and its disadvantages in 17 years' practice, treating patients for all kinds of liver and bowel complaints. In his efforts to do without Calomel he developed his now famous little olive-oil-colored tablets.

Olive Tablets are mild but effective. Safe and sure. Pleasant to take but unfailing in results.

Olive Tablets oil the bowels and they tone up the liver at the same time. They are made from a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

If you want to regain that feeling of joyous buoyancy and clear thought take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work like a vacation. 10c and 25c per box.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Stories St. Louisans Tell

THE MAN WHO NEVER TURNED 'ROUND.
S AM CAPEN says he saw a man working futilely over a stopped automobile and offered his services to solve the difficulty. Soon the engine was running nicely and the man, thanking Mr. Capen, said doubtfully: "Can I get to King's highway by going this way?"
"No. You're headed in the wrong direction. You'll have to turn around."
"I've never done that," said the man.
"Never turned 'round? How many lessons have you had in handling a car?"
"None. I just bought it."
"How long have you owned it?"
"About two hours."

Why He Went Back.
I THOUGHT your father wasn't going to send you back to college.
"That's so. Dad did kick on the expense, but I threatened to stay home and help run the business, and then he decided a college course would be cheaper."

Some Detective.
THE great detective looked fixedly at his visitor, and then, with a barely audible sound, broke the deep silence.
"Well?" he said.
It was a question.
Great drops of perspiration rolled down the stout woman's face, and, after ineffectual efforts to roll up again, spattered to the floor.
"A foot print!" she gasped. "A foot print on my window sill! I sleep on the seventh floor. There was one foot print. Only, but merely just one. Explain it, I beseech you!"
"Strange! Strange!" muttered the great detective, and thought.
"Ah!" he exclaimed at last. "I have it. Madam, I regret to inform you that when your husband came home last night he was—well, not exactly sober. In retiring he put one shoe on the window sill. In the middle of the night he got up and removed it. But, but, madam, he neglected to remove the footprint. Don't thank me. My fee is $7.53."

MARY: But NOW, Alice, you know that.
ALICE: Yes, NOW, Mary, I know that. It was a terrible shock when I learned it.
MARY: But you don't SHOW it, Alice.
ALICE: No, Mary, but I FEEL it.

The Jarr Family

Mrs. Jarr starts a revolt that wins surrender.

By Roy L. McCardell

"I DON'T see why you should criticize me or Mr. Rangle should criticize Mrs. Rangle if we did go over to Mrs. Striver's and turkey trot," said Mrs. Jarr, after Mr. Jarr had mumbled something to the effect that the dancing craze was breaking up many happy homes in St. Louis and elsewhere.
"Oh! I wasn't criticizing you or Mrs. Rangle," Mr. Jarr was quick to say. "I was just speaking in general."
"Speaking not in general, but of a General—Gen. Josephine Blessington Blotch of the Militant Hikerettes of the great Suffrage Army, and, by the way, there will be a monster demonstration like to the Panama Exposition in San Francisco in 1915. If we, or rather they (for I am sure I don't want to vote), do not get the suffrage by that time. And if they do get the suffrage they will hike across the continent to celebrate our—or rather—their triumph!"
"What has Gen. Josephine Blessington Blotch to say in regard to the turkey trot?" interrupted Mr. Jarr, but politely—oh, very politely, for Mrs. Jarr was taking him a word chase from the Atlantic to the Pacific.
"Well, she says it is well that women should turkey trot—it epitomizes the Great Revolt!"
"Oh, it epitomizes the Great Revolt, does it?" asked Mr. Jarr. "And how?"
"As Lincoln freed the slave, so the tango and the turkey trot have freed the wall flower and the chaperon," said Mrs. Jarr. "Since these simple dances came into vogue—and I want to say they are NOT vulgar, any more than a waltz or a two-step are vulgar, or all dances can be vulgar—if the people who dance them are vulgar—but the new dances are so simple that anybody can dance them!"
"Well, I don't like to think of YOU dancing them, just the same," said Mr. Jarr.
"Aha!" cried Mrs. Jarr. "It's just what I told Mrs. Rangle. I said to Mrs. Rangle that the turkey trot in the end will do a great deal of good."
Mr. Jarr looked aghast to hear such revolutionary sentiments from one who heretofore had been mid-Victorian in her ideas of conservative respectability.
"Why, Clara!" he said. "You astonish me!"
"I want to astonish you," said Mrs. Jarr, calmly. "And Mrs. Rangle wants to astonish her husband. But the plain fact is, we have come to the conclusion that the turkey trot will be the most efficacious remedy against the saloon evil."
"The saloon evil?" echoed her husband.
"Yes, the saloon evil," Mrs. Jarr went on. "We (and when I say we I include the wives of all America) have fought against the pernicious influence of the saloon for years. We have tried going, we have tried moral suasion. Some strenuous wives, like Mrs. Gratch-Dinkston have even tried force, locking up husbands and hiding their clothes, but the saloon has still enticed them."
"Oh, don't say you are a temperance man," Mrs. Jarr continued, noting that Mr. Jarr was about to interrupt her again. "In fact I do not believe any of you who go to Gus' place on the corner—and other places on other corners—are addicted to liquor. But you are addicted to saloons—to the association, there. So if you men can go and enjoy yourselves away from home with your cronies in saloons, we women of today can go and enjoy ourselves dancing with our cronies. All that is needed is a phonograph and a ragtime record. And the rest is!"
And to Mr. Jarr's profound astonishment Mrs. Jarr illustrated by doing a solo turkey trot.
"Gee Whillikens!" exclaimed the astounded man. "I think the women folk of this country have all gone crazy. If it isn't the ballot it's the ballet."
"Well, you men have no one but yourselves to blame," said Mrs. Jarr calmly. "You have had your selfish pleasures all these years, and all a wife could do was to fret and worry and stay at home neglected. But the day has come when if you men will persist in neglecting your homes for the saloons the women will enjoy themselves turkey trotting."
